

A long-exposure photograph of a rocky beach at sunset. The foreground is filled with dark, wet pebbles and several large, smooth boulders. The ocean is blurred into a smooth, white mist, and the sky is a soft gradient of orange and yellow. A small, distant island is visible on the horizon.

1